

San Juan Worship Group

State of the Meeting 2018

Our worship group meets weekly with a mix of old and new faces, but often in very small numbers. We are a support and joy to each other, but the fabric of the meeting feels thin with our numbers so small. We have reached out to Lopez Friends Meeting to discuss coming under their care and will take up that conversation this summer. One attender has transferred her membership to Lopez from a distant meeting.

Several us have continued to develop relationships with larger Quaker organizations and we have benefitted from both travelling Friends and from maintaining regular contacts among Friends on different islands.

We have participated in small projects and conversations with other faith groups in the community.
